The Thunder Bay Regional Health Research Institute (TBRHRI) - an independent, not-for-profit corporation - is the research arm of the Thunder Bay Regional Health Sciences Centre. Our Scientists work closely with physicians and other clinicians, as well as academic and industry partners, to enhance research to improve the health outcomes of the people of Northwestern Ontario and beyond. Research is advanced through discovery and development of new imaging and other technologies, clinical trials and understanding of Indigenous Health and other pertinent matters.

In conjunction with the Northern Ontario Heritage Fund Corporation, we are currently seeking candidates for the following position:

7400373 Project Assistant Intern (1 year contract)

This individual will work closely with Capital Planning at Thunder Bay Regional Health Sciences Centre in support of its research arm, the Thunder Bay Regional Health Research Institute. The successful candidate will participate in the support and development of infrastructure. This candidate will be involved in various capital projects, such as installation of new equipment, design of new space and programs, and major renovations. The intern will participate in the engineering components of the systems with each project, based on area of specialization. There will also be a maintenance component to ensure the efficient operations of systems in the research facilities and programs. Further, project management skills will be honed.

The ideal candidate is highly motivated and organized, with the ability to multi task in a fast-paced, diverse and growing environment. Exceptional organizational and communication skills, along with strong quantitative, analytic and reasoning skills are necessary. A strong work ethic and positive attitude are key. A degree/diploma in Engineering, Architecture or equivalent is required. Interns must be a University or college graduate who has graduated within the last three years from an accredited college or university. The candidate must be a graduate of a post-secondary degree or diploma program. The position will be a first full-time employment in the candidate's field of study.

To be considered for this position, please send your resume with a cover letter to:
